First Aid Class At Raymond

Once more the Safety Committee of the Raymond Sugar Factory took the initiative of organizing a first aid class this year.

Willingness of Mr. Christie, Superintendent of Mine Rescue Station of Lethbridge, to act again as a lecturer-instructor, coupled with the readiness of the Factory Management to meet the expenses involved, made the course available to those taking without any cost but effort to attend the lectures regularly and to study.

As previously, this work was carried out under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Association co-operating with the Compensation Board of Alberta.

A class of 35 was made up by the twenty three Factory Employees—first aid enthusiasts, the Scout Masters of Raymond and of some neighbouring towns with the rest being the agents of the Calgary Power Co., stationed at Raymond and Magrath.

The first lecture was delivered on February 4th and thence forth, one every Wednesday and Friday until March 13th, when the entire class successfully passed the examination carried out by Dr. J. S. Madill of Raymond.

Here is the list of the names:

Fifth year course.
Jakob Blaskovits Cecil Finch, Jack L. Kenney, John J. Landysheff, John Miller, Valdemar Piepgrass, Allen A. Watson, William A. Christie.

Fourth year course.
Stanley Greep, Wilfred Mel-drum, Varold Rolfson Elmer Rusk, Wilford VanOrman, Roy Woolley.

Third year course.
John Housley, Owen W. Larsen, Alexander Smith, Delov Seely.

Second year course.
Clyde R. Bennett, Ezra N. Christensen, George Erickson Victor B. Miller, Kay Redd, Karl F. Schneider Charles Tillack, Joseph Thompson.

First year course.
Ronald Christensen, Norman Christensen, A. L. Chipman, Melvin Foote, Roy P. Overn, Alden McNeely, Liddell Roberts, and Richard F. Washe.

Immediately after the examination both the Lecturer-instructor and examiner were thanked on behalf of the entire class by Jakob Blaskovits, and as a token of appreciation and gratitude presentations were made to these parties. In response both thanked the class and urged all to keep up the training in First-Aid. Dr. Madill pointed out that since the First-Aid instructions had been inaugurated the number of local cases of injuries requiring Dr.'s attention reduced considerably. He also mentioned the cases, when invaluable assistance had been rendered to the injured by first aiders before his arrival on the spot.

At the opening of the course all attending were welcomed on behalf of the Safety Committee by the Secretary, John Landysheff. He also was called by the chairman of the class John Miller, to speak after the examination. The topic taken up at this time may be regarded to be of some interest to the town generally, consequently the address is reproduced in some detail below:

"There is always satisfaction in knowing that a certain thing works, but most people are human enough to feel greater satisfaction when some one else knows and comments on it. I feel that I am no exception to this rule when I heard the com-

STAKE LEADERSHIP MEETING

Stake President T. Geo. Wood announces that the regular Stake Leadership meeting will be held in the Stake House next Sunday, March 29th, at 1.30 p. m. Will all interested parties please take notice.

NEWS NOTES

Gordon S. Brewerton of Cardston was a Raymond visitor on Monday.

Soviets claim 140,000 Nazis have been slain since February 6th in bitter fighting in north-west Russia where the Reds are dealing smashing blows in a desperate effort to recapture some strategic points, now held by the Nazi troops.

We are almost setting a record for a little snow every day however, "K.D." Johnson, Lethbridge's official weather forecast er predicts a dry April with plenty of rain in May. Motto is, get your field work done well and early and then watch Jupiter Pluvius do his stuff.

Enjoyable Sunday Evening Program

A very enjoyable and instructive program was held in the Stake House Sunday evening last when both wards met together and the program was presented under the direction of the First Ward Genealogical committee. 700 people or more crowded into the hall for the meeting, the recreation hall being filled to standing room and a large number occupying the chapel end of the building after the doors had been opened.

After the opening exercises, Pres. Edw. J. Wood of the Alberta Temple was called as the first speaker, and for about an hour related faith promoting experiences from his long and active life in church activities, and addressing particularly the young people, urged them to be true to the teachings of the Gospel and showed by experience in his own life and others the dividends that a good life paid.

The pageant "Could It Happen to You," so well presented held the audience almost breathless during its presentation. Preambled by a verse of "Oh My Father" it depicted a scene in the spirit world of a man who had been indifferent and rebellious to the teachings and commandments of the Gospel here when he had the opportunity, in comparison to the peace and joy enjoyed by those who while not enjoying the same privileges in life, had obeyed in humility and happiness when the truth had been presented to them. It was a very sacred and touching portrayal and made a profound impression on all. In the cast were Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Layne, Lee Brewerton, Wilford VanOrman and assisting in costuming, lighting and music were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hudson, Mrs. Wally Wilde, Miss Jeannine Walde, Ken Stone and others.

Pres. Jos. Y. Card spoke very briefly and special musical numbers were: Double Mixed Quartette by Delbert Oler and Co., with Miss Leda Jensen on the violin and Mrs. Maybelle Anderson at the piano, and a violin and piano duette by Misses Marie and Bernice Dah.

500 Attend School Festival Program

The Stake House was filled to the doors with students and adults on Wednesday evening for the Festival program, in aid of the Red Cross. The Matinee for the children in the afternoon gave the ones of the lower grades an opportunity to see and hear the program so that the evening performance was attended mainly by students of the higher grades and adults.

The program numbers, especially in the lower grades, showed a great deal of effort and work on the part of the teachers to train them so well and the talent displayed by the older students was a joy to everyone, especially to parents. The school program, with its variety of interests in drama, art, music and so on along with the strictly academic subjects seems to be meeting a need of the present day.

This Festival was presented because sickness in neighboring towns had made the usual school festival unfeasible at this time. The students and teachers had spent a great deal of time in preparation, and so that their efforts would not be wasted and so that a good cause might be benefitted, the winning numbers in the various sections were arranged for concert presentation, with some others added to round out the program just a little. It lasted about two hours.

Principal J. O. Hicken organized the program, and Eugene Dahl of Grade VII was a very competent Master of Ceremonies. Following is the program:

W. I. MEETING

The Raymond W. I. held their meeting March 12th, 1942 at the home of Mrs. J. Fisher with Pres. Mrs. Hall in the chair and 18 ladies present. Flag Salute and singing "O Canada" opened the meeting, the creed was given and the roll answered by hints on flower raising. The minutes were read and business taken care of. A paper was given on Agriculture and Canadian Industries by Mrs. A. Winkler and questions were asked and answered.

A humorous reading was given by Mrs. J. Miller, and ways were discussed for members to attend conference of the W. I. being held in Lethbridge.

The meeting was closed by singing "God Save our King".

A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Shaw.

The next meeting will be held April 9th at the home of Mrs. J. Miller.

Interesting Talk At Rotary

Rhinold Thur was speaker at Rotary on Monday and spoke on "Hobbies" and exhibited numerous pieces of work that he had done in this field.

Amongst his prized possessions is a small violin, less than 2 inches long complete in every detail and built to scale. A number of wood carvings which showed ability with the knife and unlimited patience, wax figures cut out of a red wax, and then a number of very fine paintings.

He also hobbies in literature and music and read a poem of his accepted and printed in "World Fair" and the words of a song he is hoping to have published after the concert puts it to music and arrangements are made with a publishing house. He also interest himself in inventions and has several ideas he is now working on in the hope of having them patented.

It was a very enjoyable hour and shows what a person can do when they apply themselves to the things they enjoy doing.

Next week the Rotarians will have a Fathers and Sons night at the Bowladrome, commencing at 7 p.m. and every member is expected to be there either with his boy or someone else's boy. Refreshments will be served during the evening hours, so be on hand, and on time for the start of the fun.

NEWS NOTES

Well, according to the calendar spring is here. It didn't feel much like it on Monday with the east wind blowing, did it?

Russian despatches claim that Nazis in Russia, retreating from the onslaught of Red forces, are burning their wounded and dead soldiers, to cover up evidence of their heavy losses in these Russian encounters.

Well, Tuesday is the last day when gasoline is bought on the open market. After that your gasoline bible will have to be presented, and boy, how fast those coupons will disappear if we forget and say "fill 'er up please."

Defeating the Magrath Lions 73-43 in Cardston Monday night in what turned out to be one of the wildest games of the series, Raymond Jacks are again Alberta Senior champions, hanging another scalp to their totem pole making the eighteenth year out of the past twenty that the senior championship has rested in Raymond.

The Jacks had another of their good nights, and in the opening minutes of play they ran the score to 19-5 in their favor and then for the remaining 35 minutes of the game, they kept right on slamming home the horsehide, and Magrath scrambled wildly and madly to try and break up the well organized and smooth combination playing of the Jacks.

Three players were thumbed to the showers for their quota of personals, and Lions had two men put off for unsportsmanlike conduct, so that when the final whistle sounded most of the regulars were cooling their shins and the subs were carrying on. Hansen and Leishman had the whistles, & according to spectators, called everything and really made the teams behave.

LINEUPS:
MAGRATH: B. Bourne 8; Sabey 12, Toomer 5, I. Bourne, Blumel 8, Miller 2, Leishman, Pilling 6, Coleman 2. Total 43.
Raymond: Nalder 12, West 9, Stone 10, Turner 4, Nilsson 16, Rolfson 5, Evans 7, Heggie. Total 73.

JACKS WIN IN CALGARY

In Calgary last Friday night in their exhibition game with the Calgary Arden, the Jacks won by a one point margin, and Donny Nilsson's foul toss was the winning throw of the evening. The boys report a fine time and a grand reception by the big crowd that gathered in the large hall for the Memorial game.

According to R.A.A. officials basketball for the winter is now over. Due to military activities both here and in Montana, most of the teams have been broken up and the usual number of exhibition games were impossible. What next year will bring no one can tell. We will just have to say thank you to players and officials, and hope that when things return to some degree of normalcy, Raymond will still be in there with a basketball team of fighting players, worthy to carry the flag and keep the name of Raymond to the forefront in Dominion basketball as it has been for thirty years past.

Misses Iris Jones and Sara King and Geo. H. Brewerton were Calgary business visitors last week.

Quite a number of Raymondites were at the Temple Wednesday, about the first time in two months that weather and roads have made the trip really feasible.

J. S. Woodworth, 68, member of Parliament for 21 years and prominent figure in the C.C.F. movement for a long while, died at his home in Vancouver Saturday night last.

J. Ross Humphreys and Jack Simpson of Picture Butte, Superintendent and Chief Engineer of the Picture Butte Sugar Factory, were Raymond visitors Monday and were guests at the Rotary Luncheon.

GAS RATIONING

So you didn't get all you expected in gasoline rationing. Well we imagine there are a great many who have the same story to tell. What will be our reaction to the situation? Shall we make it like good Britishers, or shall we grumble about it and see if there is any way we can beat the deal?

In our opinion, our leaders took this action because they could see its necessity. As we have often said in this corner, this war must be won. Gasoline and rubber are a vital part of the war program, and every day their importance grows. No one likes the idea of being reduced to a gallon of gas a day, but we would rather have a quart a day than have another series of bombings on London, or any other city like that of a year ago and be able to do nothing about it because we were using the necessities of war for pleasure and unnecessary driving. If we must walk, in order that our airmen and soldiers keep those airplanes flying, those ships sailing, and the mobile equipment in operation then let us walk and walk gladly, and thank God that we are in a land where we can have full stomachs and unbroken nights of sleep in the choicest land on the face of the earth.

What are these blessings worth to us. Would you choose a new set of tires and a tank full of gas, rather than this peace and safety for you and your family? Because that holiday trip has to be cancelled, are you going to foam at the mouth and find fault with the officials if by sacrificing this pleasure you can add a punch to the fighting strength of our forces. No we will not do that. We may say, and doubtless time will prove us to some extent to be correct that there is unfairness in the rationing system. Every case where application for higher categories are asked for, will be decided by the agents of the Oil Controller on its merits. Mistakes will be made no doubt, but if there is a genuine endeavor to be fair, if there is no string pulling developed, and we don't believe there will be, then we ought to be good sports and make the best of an unpleasant but essential condition. Take it on the chin neighbor, you still have a whole skin and safety. Unnecessary driving in Britain is already stopped, and those people are rationed in food, clothing, and everything. Is not our freedom worth some small sacrifice to help maintain it. THINK and you won't talk.

ALASKA HIGHWAY BOON TO ALBERTA

Recent announcement that the U.S. highway to Alaska will be built through Alberta is regarded as one of major importance to this province, in the opinion of officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

At its last annual meeting, the A.M.A. passed a resolution favoring construction of this highway as speedily as possible and urged the full co-operation of the governments concerned.

The agreement between the U.S. and Canadian governments provide for this highway being returned to Canadian ownership after the war.

Undoubtedly Alberta will share important tourist business and benefits from this high way and it is essential that this province build up its highway system to a standard that will prove attractive to tourists.

Ultimately, thousands of U.S. tourists will travel through Alberta on their way northward and this province will gain in importance as one of the major tourist areas of the dominion.

WEEKLY LETTER

ONLY CARELESS FARMERS WILL PERMIT SOIL DRIFT-ING THIS SPRING

It seems advisable once more before spring work starts to draw attention to the soil drifting problem that faces Southern Alberta this spring. The heavy winds of last fall started the soil to drift on a number of the farms. Past experience has repeatedly shown that fields where any drifting has taken place are danger spots that should be carefully watched. If drifting is to be prevented, such fields should receive careful attention before seeding this spring.

For fields that have drifted badly or have had much loose soil piled on them from adjoining drifting fields, perhaps ploughing immediately before seeding is the best practice. This is especially true on light lands. On heavy soils where drifting has not been so severe, it may be possible to bring up sufficient clods for protection with a duck-foot cultivator.

Some farmers may have duck-foot cultivators equipped with seeder boxes. These have been used quite successfully in past years for seeding lands where some drifting had taken place. Another method that has been quite helpful is to ridge the field with the duckfoot cultivator after drilling. Of course all tillage should be at right angles to the prevailing winds.

The whole thought this spring should be to wind-proof the soil before the seed is sown. If this weather is experienced, serious losses may be expected.

Now is the time to plan to prevent drifting this spring. It can be done so there is no excuse for letting fields drift. Dust clouds coming from a field this spring must be considered as an evidence of carelessness on the part of the farmer.

Seed Treatment for Flax with Low Germination

Dr. J. E. Machacek, Dominion Rust Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, has been conducting extensive investigations on the effect of seed treatment on the percentage germination of flax. At his request we gave him parts of all flax samples sent to the North-West Line Elevators Association's laboratory for germination up to the middle of February, in all, 56 samples. These samples, besides being germinated in the regular way in our laboratory, were planted in soil at the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory. Duplicate tests of seed treated with a mercurial dust and duplicate tests of untreated seed were made. The results are interesting and very important.

Our own tests resulted in an average germination of 66.8%. Dr. Machacek's "treated" tests averaged 78.9%, and the "untreated" only 53.7%. Our tests gave higher germination percentages than Dr. Machacek's untreated ones because the latter were in soil and ours were, as usual, in blotters placed in germination chambers.

In the soil tests, seed treatment increased the average germination from 53.7% to 78.9%—a striking result. Treatment with an organic mercury dust at the rate of 1½ ounces per bushel was recommended for all except three samples; and even in these, treatment increased germination somewhat.

It must not, of course, be concluded that seed treatment will improve the germinability of all flax seed. Every sample sent in to the Line Elevators' laboratory this winter will be checked by Dr. Machacek and the results sent to the farmer.

EQUINE ENCEPHALOMYELITIS

Sentence of death hangs over thousands of valuable horses in Alberta today. Equine encephalomyelitis may strike suddenly and reach epidemic proportions. Not since 1938 has the danger been so great. In 1939 due to the extensive use of "chick" vaccine, the disease was kept under control. But in 1940 there were sufficient cases, and in 1941 there were more, to convince authorities that the casual agent is still present over widespread areas. Should conditions be favorable to an outbreak this year the disease will spread on a large scale.

There is one proven way to protect horses from this silent killer. It is by vaccinating with "chick" vaccine. The protection is highly effective and it is the only satisfactory agent known to produce immunity.

Vaccinate horses early in the season, preferably before the commencement of spring work. When possible keep horses at rest for twenty-four hours after vaccination, and vaccinate young colts a few days after birth. Never vaccinate in any spot subject to rubbing or friction or harness.

It is important that vaccination be performed by a competent person—a registered veterinarian. Should the owner wish to vaccinate his own horses, he is warned to take every antiseptic precaution.

Horse owners of Alberta face a real responsibility in the matter of vaccination. First of all there is danger of human infection. It is now generally accepted that Equine Encephalomyelitis may infect humans. It is obvious in the light of this fact, that vaccination of horses will first of all assist in the safeguarding of public health and secondly protect the owner's investment in horseflesh.

Another important aspect of horse vaccination is that of national economy. In these critical times it is possible that horses may suddenly be required on a large scale for purposes of national defense or the nation's war effort, and the preservation of existing stocks is therefore an imperative need.

Vaccinate early with "chick" vaccine, and keep the silent killer in abeyance. Protect investment, human life and the nation's wealth by immunizing your horses in the manner recommended by all competent authorities. "Chick" vaccine is the horse owner's first line of defense against the onslaught of this disease.

After six bitterly contested games in Provincial playoffs, Lethbridge Maple Leafs won the Alberta championship for senior hockey, and met the Port Arthur Bearcats in the first playoff game last night, best of 7. Monday night in Calgary the game went the full ninety minutes of play, their regular period and 30 minutes of overtime, to end in a 2-2 tie and force the sixth game in Lethbridge, which the Maple Leafs won by a 3-1 score. Many Raymond fans attended this game.

NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Strong spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Raymond.

Well, we are already up to the Easter holidays. Next Friday is Good Friday and the children will have a short breather from school.

New licenses are appearing in great numbers now and none too soon either. After next Tuesday, one will not be able to buy any gasoline without his common book and even then, not very much.

Bus and truck traffic was resumed Monday morning after heavy traffic being banned on highways for a week. The bus went through to Cardston at 4 a.m. and took second and third class mails from Lethbridge with it for Raymond and its points. It returned on its regular schedule, arriving here at 9:20. "Mutt" was on his regular run again Monday.

FIRST AID CLASS AT RAYMOND

ments made by Dr. Madill in regard to what you the First Aiders have grown up to mean to your fellow man. This is a splendid accomplishment indeed and one in which a pride can justifiably be taken. It should serve as an inspiration to others. Is it not a real consolation to know that there are some among us who may be relied upon to take care of the emergency needs which might arise, almost anywhere i.e. at home, on highway in the town, and particularly in this time of peril might arise out of the air raids or sabotage by enemy aliens. It perhaps sounds ridiculous and fantastic because we are so remotely situated from the actual war fronts and there are no military objects around here. How about the Bombing School located only 20 miles from us, how about the Sugar Factory? Are you sure, the destruction of these, would not be of any military value to the enemy? The enemy proved to be ruthless practising bombing civil population for sheer reasons of terrorizing them to break the morale and thus to weaken the resistance. No doubt you know that in connection with the civil defense scheme of our neighboring city an air raid precaution organization has been formed there in which the city fire brigade work hand in hand with the first aid squads. You know also that the Director of the St. John Ambulance Association of Ottawa during his recent visit to the Lethbridge Branch pointed out what an important part the St. John Ambulance Brigades play in the air raid emergency work in the Old Country, and here in Canada at West and East Coasts. Attention is drawn to these facts with the idea of suggesting consideration of organizing some first aid squads in Raymond, which would co-operate with the local fire brigade. Both may eventually benefit from such a co-operation and provide a greater measure of security to the entire community should the emergency arise. It is known that the local branch of the Canadian Legion thinks that some form of civil defence should be worked out and has been taking some steps in an effort to bring it about.

Such things as 'Complacency' "Business as Usual", doing "Too little" or "Too Late" proved time after time in this war to be too disastrous to our war effort. Luxuries of life, pleasure and amusements might well be put aside until the war is won. The total war effort supported by the entire population with complete preparedness and extreme vigilance will bring us victory but nothing else. Remember Hong Kong. Think it over what can be done in this regard on our part."

After this address the Examiner of the class was asked for the comments. He gave his the country may be affected in ideas as to how this section of case Canada is invaded. He also thought that the idea of organizing local First Aid Teams is worthy of consideration, urging again to keep up the knowledge in first aid as "You will never learn too much" the Dr. concluded.

Outside of some roughness and a rutty stretch of road just west of Bradshaw the Cardston road is in good enough condition to do your forty miles per on.

Those attending the W. I. conference held in Lethbridge on March 19th and 20th were Messrs Wm. Lamb, J. Fisher, T. Allen, John Allen, Ira McBride, M. Alfred J. Miller and F. G. Hall Mrs. Millers daughter Jessie from Vulcan accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ratten were Raymond visitors Tuesday.

By defeating Edmonton Normal 42-31 in their second game in Edmonton, Cardston Intermediates won the Provincial crown for this division, with a nine point lead in two games. Congratulations, Cardston.

When Allied forces can spare the time and planes, they will be able to start some lovely fires in the bamboo housed cities of Japan. At that, it might have a disastrous effect on Japanese morale, and it would be no more than our enemies have done in trying to bring British people to their knees.
